

(Free and download) China's Growth: The Making of an Economic Superpower

China's Growth: The Making of an Economic Superpower

Linda Yueh

DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#687191 in eBooks 2013-04-11 2013-04-11 File Name: B00EAO3RFC | File size: 52.Mb

Linda Yueh : China's Growth: The Making of an Economic Superpower before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised China's Growth: The Making of an Economic Superpower:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I agree with the author. This is the book ...By Miguel A. Rivera RiosI agree with the author. This is the book every academic hopes to write. Yueh present us a culmination of years of research that led us to understand the impressive transformation of People Republic of China.

China's economic growth has transformed the country from one of the poorest in the world to its second largest economy. Understanding the drivers of growth remains elusive as the country is affected by both its transition from central planning and the challenges of a developing country. This book examines the main themes of growth, offering micro level evidence to shed light on the macro drivers of the economy. It also focuses on law and informal institutions of the economy to highlight the importance of entrepreneurship and the development of the private sector.

"... with reams of data, numerous charts, and mathematical models and equations, this is without question an enormously well-researched book... an invaluable book for anyone interested in understanding the various factors economic, political and technological behind China's experience at promoting economic growth for over three decades and the necessary measures for increasing privatization, marketization and rule of law that will ensure its continuing economic prowess." -- Lawrence R. Sullivan, Adelphi University

About the Author Linda Yueh is a fellow in economics at St Edmund Hall, University of Oxford, adjunct professor of economics at the London Business School, and visiting professor of economics at Peking University. Dr. Yueh directs the China Growth Centre at Oxford and is an associate of the Centre for Economic Performance and IDEAS research centre at the London School of Economics. She has been an advisor to, among others, the World Economic Forum in Davos, the World Bank, the European Commission, and the Asian Development Bank. She is also an economics broadcaster and has published widely in the areas of economics, law, globalisation, and development.