Director Coaching Supervision Academy This book is an excellent guide to the field of 21st century supervision practice By Miss E J Murdoch Reviewed by Edna Murdoch, Director Coaching Supervision Academy This book is an excellent guide to the field of 21st century supervision practice. A quick look at the contents illustrates the thoroughness and range of the J Arnold's discourse on supervision. She is superbly informed and largely because of her long experience and the depth of her training. Coaching Supervision at its B.E.S.T. develops current supervision literature by highlighting recent developments in supervisory practice - practical and theoretical. Arnold covers key supervision models and gives an excellent overview of working with Clean Language in supervision; the first available text on how to use this model in supervision. The writer's enthusiasm is contagious, the writing is clear and the chapters are full of examples, new insights and new tools for the reader. This is a rich and rewarding read. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. A PRACTICAL, HELPFUL GUIDE TO SUPERVISION By Lynne Cooper This is a really useful handbook not just for coaching supervisors but for anyone interested in supervision of leaders, managers and mentors in organisations. It's nicely laid out and illustrated and full of practical approaches and tools for supervision. Groves's; Clean Language and other Clean approaches are covered in some depth and in a very accessible way, as well as other useful tools and techniques. The book is easy to read and full of exercises and case studies which makes it easy for anyone to pick up and use the ideas and tools irrespective of their knowledge of supervision. All in all a practical, easy to read and valuable book.

Coaching Supervision at its B.E.S.T. contains clear strategies and real life case studies and can be used in all settings where there is a need for effective and efficient coaching supervision. The specific clean questioning technique allows the supervisor to remove assumptions and have an insightful and eagle eyed view of the whole supervision spectrum.
